

A large cruise ship named Britannia is shown from a low angle on the deck. The ship's white hull is the central focus, with the name 'BRITANNIA' written in large, dark blue, serif capital letters. To the left of the name, a decorative arrangement of white flowers and colorful ribbons is suspended. The ship's upper decks are visible on the right, featuring white railings and a person in a bright orange uniform standing on a platform. A red carpet is laid out on the deck in the foreground, leading towards the ship. The sky is overcast and grey.
